

The FCC should not impose any proposal that would lessen Indiana's Telephone Privacy Law. This law has greatly improved our time at home. The number of unsolicited calls has gone from 5 per night to usually zero, but sometimes one.